

FOULDEN CARPET BOWLS CLUB

19/04/2021

As you might expect, the club hasn't met since the village hall closed last year. Members are looking forward to playing again and, while it means the home advantage, members are excited about soon being able to play on a flat, level floor.

The club is affiliated to the English Carpet Bowls Association and continues membership of both the Norfolk and West Norfolk Carpet Bowls Associations. Up until the pandemic called a halt to proceedings, four members represented the club in the West Norfolk Pairs League which is played in Kings Lynn once a month between September and April. The club reached the final of West Norfolk's Borough Cup knockout competition. The final match, originally due to be played last May, had to be postponed, but will hopefully be played later this year.

Although most members live in Foulden the club has attracted members from Feltwell and Gooderstone. When the club has access to the village hall again, to comply with government's road-map, play will likely be limited to twelve people playing across two carpets. Even so, the club will be actively recruiting new members and hopes that people will be looking to try new hobbies as things return to normal.
